Patchwork Botanicals Wallcovering, Hemlock, Bold

Worker Bird's Patchwork Botanicals Wallcoverings blends geometric precision with organic forms inspired by nature and quilt motifs. Designed by Kim Fox of Worker Bird, the collection features three patterns—Hemlock, Sedge, and Mountain Laurel—each celebrating the textures and rhythms of the natural world.

Each pattern is available in three colorways. Hemlock (shown here) comes in Bold, Brown and Grey. Adaptable for residential or commercial use, the collection pairs bold geometry with lush botanicals for a dynamic yet timeless look.

The standard offering is printed on a low-VOC, PVC-free, Type II commercial-grade substrate with a matte, leathered texture—ideal for high-traffic and sustainability-conscious spaces. Custom substrates are available by request. All wallcoverings are digitally printed on demand, reducing waste and environmental impact.

ABOUT THE PRODUCER

Worker Bird finds beauty in the everyday, transforming familiar shapes and organic patterns into striking compositions. Founded by Kim Fox, the studio draws inspiration from birds, bees, farm machinery, and the quiet resilience of nature. Rooted in process, Kim's work reflects Pittsburgh's layered landscape—where industry meets renewal. With Green Leap, Worker Bird expands into wallcoverings, introducing a collection of plant-inspired and quilt-influenced designs. Created for residential and commercial spaces, these wallpapers bring warmth, texture, and storytelling to interiors while staying true to Kim's handcrafted aesthetic.
